Dear Friends and Lions Club Members,

Please join us for an event in honor of Faces of Tomorrow. Dr. Nima Pahlavan will join us for an inspirational talk about the medical mission work he and his team are doing. The event will be hosted by Lion President, Phylliss Moore of the Foster City Lions Club.

Dr. Pahlavan is a founding member of Faces of Tomorrow and the chief of Otolaryngology and Head and Neck Surgery at Kaiser North in Sacramento. His team travels to South America to help the poorest of children who suffer from facial deformities such as cleft lip and cleft palate. In January 2010 they will travel to Quito, Ecuador with the goal of helping 100 children. They do this important mission because most Ecuadorian families cannot afford reconstructive surgery and even if they could, there are limited resources available to them. Sadly, children left untreated often live as outcasts. They rarely go to school and are often kept from the public. Some are even abandoned at birth. This is maddening because cleft lip and cleft palate are easily repaired. For as little as $250 and 45 minutes of surgery a child's life can literally be transformed. In most cases, the only hope these children have comes from medical mission groups such as Faces of Tomorrow.
